One of the bugfixes is a. Total Uninstall Professional 6.3.4 PORTABLE. The following video shows. Total Uninstall Professional 6.3.4 PORTABLE download. Q: how to set current location in google map for iphone I want to implement Google Map in my app. I have installed Google maps sdk and working fine in it. I can print map without any error. But now I want to set my current location to map and show some pin on map view. Could anyone help me?

Thanks in advance. A: First you need to have the current location which is usually self.locationManager.desiredAccuracy = kCLLocationAccuracyBest;

That is called once when initializing the GoogleMap. That accuracy is high, which means that you will need a lot of resolution. You then check the coordinates to see if you're in some-place, here's a starting point

NSArray *coords = [GMSCoordinateBounds boundsForCoordinate:location.coordinate
