The updated system places more importance on player actions during matches, from how they occupy space in the middle of the pitch, to how they close down, attack and defend in the final third. Players are rated on the following actions: Passing: Player rate is based on how many accurate passes (successful passes that have a velocity of more than 85 degrees) they made per game, and the number of successful passes that contain a short pass. Possession: Player rate is based on the percentage of total touches (passes, shots, crosses, dribbles) they complete, and the number of good opportunities they create (defined as a through-ball, or shot or cross into the box). Tackling: Player rate is based on the number of tackles they make per game, and their effectiveness in winning the ball back after a tackle. Interceptions: Player rate is based on how successful they are at winning possession in the opposition half. Off-ball actions: Player rate is based on how often and where they perform actions from out of possession. Out of Possession Actions: Player rate is based on how successful they are at recovering possession. New Player Rating System Match Performance Combining the most accurate match engine and the power of the greatest football clubs in the world FIFA now introduces "Match Performance," with a player's game rating being influenced by actions they take within a match. The system benefits from the unrivalled depth in game data, including how physical they are, how consistently successful they are, and how often they win possession. Recognise the player actions that make the difference between a star player and a benchwarmer. Some Actions are more valuable than others. The player performance rating is usually influenced by decisions that have the greatest impact on a player's game. For example, a player who controls the match, has more touches and keeps possession longer will get more game points than a player who has a low tackle or interception rate. It's a much more complex system than previous iterations and the best players will be awarded more game points than in previous versions. Which Actions are Underrated in FIFA 21?

What's new:

- Reverse Tackle - Elite skill you'll need to showcase your attacking threat. Step up to the mark and launch a powerful reverse tackle to the defence from a distance or pull it off while set-up in a flatter position. Run onto the ball with a strong run at your opponent and apply the all-important guillotine to send the ball backwards.
- Tackle Show - A command to focus your player's attention on making sure the ball has been secured on the turf. Show off your best online headers to foil opponents or defy the odds and pull off a sequence of tackles.
- ADL - Assist Deflect - Geometry comes to life in this new way to deliver assist passes that feel just as at home from a free kick as from a short pass. Crack your whip on towards the corner to lure defenders out and then spot a lurking teammate waiting just to collect the goal-scoring pass.
- Ball Control- Ball Control allows you to alter the course of your shots on goal. Control the ball with a single stick tilt and determine the entire flight of your in-swipe or out-swipe.
- Release Shooting- Take over the control of your shots on goal with Release Shooting. Move the left trigger up or down to target a large area of the goal - this is where Director of Football comes into play. Pull the analogue stick up to cut angles, lower to soften your trajectory, or drag the left stick in tight when you need to bust in on your shot.
- Peaking - Time for a new feeling in advanced play. Take advantage of a free agent's status to jump on a counter attack and strike by tapping the A button as your run approaches, regardless of whether it's outside the area or around the corner.
- PRE MATCH - Put together the ultimate team of fantasy superstars online beforehand.

After the four major gameplay innovations introduced in FIFA 19, we wanted to continue to push the game forward with more creative and ambitious ideas, and take the game even closer to the real thing. We researched and studied the way players, clubs and fans interact with the game, the standard and the expectations they have, and put together an advanced physics engine, allowing us to create unique gameplay features such as "Powered by Football" and dynamic Player Intelligence. We also brought a host of gameplay changes that makes clubs more fun to play. Our goal is to deliver more of what the fans really want in the game.

New Features

- New Interactive Roster System (IRS) The IRS helps you understand and develop your team and manage the personalities of the players. It makes Roster Management easier than ever – download the transfer market and deal requests to get a complete overview of the squad. You get to know the players' full personal information, including their attitudes, playing styles and individual traits. You can also manage the budget of your team based on the strengths and personalities of the players.
- Powered by Football Bringing the game closer to the real thing with fundamental gameplay innovations for the FIFA series. All new powered by football gameplay mechanics, including acceleration, momentum, skills, headers, ball physics, new dribbling control, new free kicks, new handling model, new goalkeepers, new high-pressure defensive play, new marking system, new GOAT (Goal-Assist-Throw-In) chance, and more.
- New Dynamic Player Intelligence For the first time in the series, you can control your squad in a completely new way. On any pitch, use the mouse to control the ball like a pro, or tap your screen to use actions that go beyond the limits of what you can do on paper. You can score or defend in more ways, use the ball at any angle, do tricky moves and use your players' individual traits to win in unexpected ways. Every game is now your league, your teams, your competition and your challenge.
- Play your way The FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) feature allows fans to spend real money and be rewarded with packs of player cards that can be swapped between the modes. The cards can then be used to assemble player combinations and create new, never-before-seen players. What's more, the cards have different levels of rarity
