lista em um objeto. Since 2008, about 40 000 architects have been trained in architectural project management in Germany, through the state scholarships of the German University of Applied Sciences (GfZ). As a result, their compensation and the merit list is now composed of these graduates. We publish the number of vacancies and the number of graduates in the annual information bulletin "Architecture in Germany". This allows you to calculate the total number of graduates in Germany for each year between 2008 and 2013. The number of scholarships granted to study courses for architects in Germany is, of course, greater than 40 000. Then, the standard of the final selection is obviously not the same for all scholarships. In 2010, for example, 16 1000 scholarships were granted. The difference in numbers does not follow any general trend. Information bulletin "Architecture in Germany" for the years 2008, 2009, 2011, 2012 and 2013. * since 2009, the certificates of all architectural project management (APM) training courses will be accepted by the state scholarships of the German University of Applied Sciences for the purposes of the internship. As of 2015, there are 1320 APM training courses under the patronage of the German University of Applied Sciences. Project
