Just as the iPad Pro updated the battery life for tablets, Adobe's updated Photoshop app now does a nice job of extending the battery life for the iPad Pro. It does so with a new Adobe app-wide mode that learns when you're at work and about to leave the house. If you have the Creative Cloud, you can use the Pencil as a mouse, but you could really use a tablet-style mouse. The Pencil thus functions like a mouse in the app's thick, horizontal panes and mouse controls.
